FIRE AT WILEY'S CORNER
Gives Maynard Kinney $8000 Loss With Small Insurance
—Dog's Barking Saves Occupants

The barking of a dog, which did not live to receive evidences of its owner's gratitude, gave warning at 4 o'clock yesterday morning which saved from great peril the family of Maynard Kinney, proprietor of the Sunshine Poultry Farm at Wiley's Corner, St. George.

Arising at this early hour to see what was causing the disturbance Mr. Kinney found a brisk fire in progress in the garage attached to his house, the blaze being fed by 10 cords of wood which he had stored there the previous day. In this building also were $2000 worth of incubators and Mr. Kinney's motor car, all being destroyed by fire together with the unfortunate police dog.

The house which was a large one with a sun porch on three sides, also fell a victim to the flames, but by strenuous work volunteers saved about all of the furniture except the kitchen range.

The hen house, containing thousands of chicks, and located only 10 feet from the garage, was saved. Wind blowing in an opposite direction saved neighboring buildings.

Mr. Kinney figures his loss at about $8000, met by only $1500 insurance.

A GENERAL STORE
Remarkable Shop Will Operate Tomorrow In Park Annex—Many Samples

Tomorrow's big feature of Happiness Week will be the spectacular "general store" of M. B. & C. O. Perry conducted in the Park Theatre Annex. Hundreds of valuable samples and premiums of generous size will be given away including coffee, Kraft products, crackers, cookies, candies, ice cream—all free to all comers. The whole rear section will stir the wonder of the beholder as to how such a collection ever could be gathered.

The signs about the store take the mind back to the "gay nineties," with Sweet Corn, The Yellow Kid, Sen Sen and other trade names. On the shelves may be seen merchandise of the period now long past, a case for many a smile and possibly pang of nostalgia.

The "store" will be open for its business of spreading joy and samples tomorrow afternoon and evening. Then at the evening performance the busy proprietor and his assistant will transfer their efforts to the Park Theatre stage where a second general store of a somewhat different order will be carried on and the major gifts, many of considerable value, will be given to the audience.

At the Park Theatre—Perry General Store Tomorrow will be a regular Edinburgh Holiday, for Everything is Free

JULY 4TH

Saturday, July 2, Sunday, July 3, Monday, July 4—if you get any sleep those three days it will not be the fault of the committee from Winslow-Holbrook Post, American Legion, which has charge of the Fourth of July celebration in Rockland. In reality it is to be a three-day show, and the dizziest three days that the good old Limerock City has known in as many generations. The world is going to be told how glad we all are that we won our independence some 166 years ago. Maybe you will prefer to go to some cool, shady spot and battle mosquitoes on an alleged picnic—if so that is your privilege. Suffice it to say that most of us are going to hang around town and see what our dignified burg looks like, kicking up its heels.

Saturday's Start
This will be Merchants' Day when our tradespeople acting in co-operation with the American Legion will offer reduced prices on many of the most desirable articles in their stores. Saturday is always a big trading day, but with the inducements offered on this particular occasion it is planned to have so many visitors in our delightful town that cars will be parked as far as the heads of Limerock, Park and Middle streets.

This rooster will be on the job at daybreak and so you will after listening to the grand salute with which the committee will greet the holiday.

At 10 o'clock will take place one of the best parades ever seen in Rockland. Col. Basil H. Stinson, past department commander, of the American Legion is to be chief marshal, and assisting him on this eventful occasion will be two of his World War pals, Edward R. Veazie and Herbert R. Mullen as aides.

The line of march has not been completed at this writing but in a general way the parade will consist of five drum corps, the Rockland Band, 40 or more business floats, horrors and sailors. It is possible that Battery E may be brought back from its encampment to represent the Army.

Immediately following the parade there will be a drum corps contest on Park street near the Gulf Refining Station, with the judges' stand located in front of the Rubenstein store. Cups and cash prizes are expected to attract the State's best organizations to this city.

Athletic events will follow the drum corps contest. The five-mile marathon will start and finish at the corner of Limerock and Main streets. Young and old are to have their day in court.

Getting now along towards dinner time and let it be known that the city's well known eating establishments are going to be well equipped. One feature, agreed upon, is a dollar shore dinner.

At 7.30 p. m. the fun will start with the appearance of the American Legion Drum Corps. You will recognize the music, but you may not recognize the musicians for they are to be in costume. A miniature Mardi Gras will be staged and the whole city is invited to enter into the spirit of the occasion and be prepared to toss around large quantities of streamers and confetti.

If you can dig up some humorous or ridiculous costume, do so, but if you are not so equipped don a mask and let folks guess your identity.

Whoop'er up and have the best time you know how.

Sunday's "Warming Up"

Church services will be along the usual order and the holiday spirit which Independence engenders will doubtless find expression in the sermons preached by the city's capable pastors.

During the day there will be golf contests at the Rockland Country Club with a cup for the prize.

In the evening the Rockland Band will give a concert in Post-office square with lively airs appropriate to the holiday on which the hour borders.

Probably nobody will dare touch off any cannon crackers until the midnight hour arrives, for that is the time set for the official beginning of the big celebration.

The American Legion and its drum corps (with visiting drum corps if they have then arrived) will have a short parade, after which it is expected that a big crowd will assemble at Strand Theatre to see the picture of the Sharkey-Schmelling fight which recently brought the world's heavyweight crown back to America, and which has led to such a wide discussion as to whether Sharkey was really entitled to the decision. This picture will be an added feature to a regulation motion picture program.

What would Independence Day be without baseball?

Here again the committee is prepared to fill the bill for there will be two games in the Knox County Twilight League, over which the fans are just now so howlingly enthusiastic.

At 1 o'clock sharp Rockland takes on its old rival Camden; and when the smoke has cleared away at 3.30 Rockland will be ready to receive the League's new entry—Waldoboro. Those who saw that Over at Knox Trotting Park commencing at 1.30 p. m. there will be matinee races in three classes with C. Earle Ludwick as starter. Music and public address announcements are also on the program. Free parking and free grandstand privileges. Depend upon it there will be some good contests.

There will be fistic fireworks at Community Park at 7.30 p. m. sponsored by the Legion, as a part of its celebration.

The main bout will feature Cyclone Sawyer of Bath, who knocked out Charles Neary of Lowell in the main bout of the Yankee Division show in Portland vs. Billy Nevins, young Bostonian, who has 11 wins.

JULY 4TH

KNOX BIRTHDAY
To Have Recognition At Montpelier On July the Twenty-fifth

The custom, for several years maintained, of celebrating the anniversary of the birth of Gen. Henry Knox, will be recognized the present year.

The directors of the Knox Memorial Association at their meeting yesterday voted to carry out a program in recognition of the Revolutionary hero whose memorial at Thomaston is taking its place as a national shrine. No elaborate observation of the day is proposed, such as in recent years, previous to the Memorial's completion, has been given, but a program fitting to the occasion will be presented, of which the details in due time are to be announced.

The committee of arrangements includes Henry E. McDonald, Arthur J. Elliot, J. C. Perry, Mrs. Charles A. Creighton and Mrs. Arthur J. Elliot. It is proposed to enlist the co-operation of the Thomaston and Rockland chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution, who have been loyal supporters of the Knox Memorial throughout the long period of its development from the smallest beginnings.

Further details will be brought to public notice in anticipation of the anniversary, which falls on July 25.

nings to his credit, and who defeated Sawyer a few weeks ago in one of the best bouts of the season.

The semi-final set piece presents Bud Fisher of Rockland in a sparkling altercation with Johnny Wilson of Bath. The local fans know Bud's calibre and they know that Wilson must be some steeper if he ever climbs back through the ropes with the decision.

The committee offers as preliminaries: Roland Sukeforth of Rockland vs. Eddie Garvin of Bath; Al Wilson of Rockland vs. Young Racine of Brunswick; and Blackie Levesque of Brunswick vs. Young Hooper of Rockland.

After the boxing show is over the 10,000 or more holidayites will assemble in the vicinity of the Elks Home to view the fine fireworks display.

Where are you going the Fourth? There's only one answer, of course!

A "LIFER" DEPARTS
Swedish Sailor Who Figured In Murder of Shipkeeper Going Back Home

Pardoned from a life sentence in the Maine State Prison, imposed Oct. 5, 1928 for complicity in the murder of Henry Gustafson, shipkeeper of the schooner Edward B. Winslow, Robert Gustafson, 31-year-old Swedish sailor, left Thomaston for Ellis Island and his homeland Tuesday in custody of Immigration Inspector Robert L. Dettmar.

Gustafson was sentenced after pleading guilty to being an accessory before the fact to the murder of Gustafson by Thorwald E. Grip, Norwegian seaman, who still is serving a life sentence at Thomaston. A month ago Gov. Gardner and his Council pardoned Gustafson on the condition that he leave the United States. Only too glad to comply with this condition, according to the immigration officials, Gustafson was taken from the prison Tuesday by Inspector Dettmar. He will go to Ellis Island and will be deported to Sweden today.

The murder of Gustafson, aged watchman aboard the five-master Edward B. Winslow, tied up at Portland Terminal Pier No. 3, occurred Sept. 4, 1928. Gustafson died of three bullet wounds, fired by Grip, according to the confession of both men.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

TREES AND THE MASTER
Into the woods my Master went,
Clean forepart, forepart.
Into the woods my Master came,
Forepart with love and shame.
But the olives they were not blind to Him;
The little gray leaves were kind to Him;
The thorn-tree had a mind to Him
When into the woods He came.
Out of the woods my Master went,
And He was well content.
Out of the woods my Master came,
Content with death and shame.
When Death and Shame would woo Him last,
From under the trees they drew Him last.

When out of the woods He came."

CELEBRATING JULY FOURTH

To the alert and aggressive young men of the American Legion, Rockland is again to find itself under obligation, this time for an alive recognition of the great national anniversary of the signing of that immortal document, the Declaration of Independence. The official announcements in the press and the bold publicity of the billboards set forth somewhat in detail the reasons why the people of the whole region hereabout are certain to be found enjoying the many attractions featured in the three days named for the period of celebration. There will be racing on land and water, the national game will have its adequate presentation, other athletic sports are marked for demonstration. Here are attractions calculated to engage the various tastes of holiday-makers, and back-grounding it all will be the grand parade of the day itself, upon which the ingenious will expend their ablest efforts, and the enthusiastic throngs of spectators contribute their showers of applause.

It is some years since our city gave recognition to this day of patriotic significance. We are proud that the young men of Winslow-Holbrook Post have risen up to put an end to that form of community inertia. Let us all join in lending to their ambitious efforts every possible form of appreciation and assistance.

THE GARDEN CLUBS

We have noted with great interest, as doubtless all our readers have, the activities of the garden clubs of this vicinity, and the increasing evidences that the gospel of beauty which they preach is constantly winning adherents. In connection with this work of community adornment, for which these clubs stand sponsor, this paper is desired by Mrs. Beveridge, president of the Rockland Garden Club, to urge not alone upon its members, but upon citizens at large, the general improvement that may be wrought by sweeping from the sidewalks the sand left there during the icy periods of the past winter—and to that may be added the trimming of the grass borders and the orderly raking of the gutters. These little attentions, she points out, can easily be given by citizens whose homes abut on the street. The cost would be negligible, the results in general improvement of appearance in the city's thoroughfares something of incalculable value to the esthetic side of the community.

OF AN OLD FAMILY

The sorrow that is a natural accompaniment of death is accentuated in the passing of L. Bliss Gilchrist, presenting as it does a public loss to the community with which the name has for a century and a half been conspicuously identified. As shipbuilders and mariners the men of the family have taken notable part in the making of Thomaston a familiar name in every port of the world where the American flag was flown. Himself in business life associated with shipping, Mr. Gilchrist's service, after years of successful retiring, to his boyhood town, revived in his person a sympathetic connection with those far-off days of Thomaston's maritime prominence, and accentuated by that much the high character and qualities of friendship which commanded for him the honor and affection of circles that are widely extended.

STOBIE IS REAPPOINTED

George J. Stobie of Waterville was Tuesday reappointed Commissioner of Inland Fisheries and Game for a three-year term by Gov. Gardner. A few hours before posting the nomination the Chief Executive had this to say about Commissioner Stobie: "It will give me great pleasure to reappoint a public official who has shown such splendid devotion to duty and such remarkable accomplishments."

IN THE TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Rockland's 1 To 0 Victory Over St. George the Talk Of Two Counties—Camden a Winner

Balance Of The Week
Tonight—Rockland at Waldoboro. Friday—Waldoboro vs. Thomaston, at Rockland.
Saturday (afternoon)—Camden at St. George.

It is not easy to foretell what the Twilight League has in store this season, but for once, at least Rockland is definitely at the top of the ladder, and playing the same kind of ball that it has for three games, will make a strong bid for the championship. Camden pulled out of the cellar last night. The standing:

Rockland 1, St. George 0

If the history of the Knox County Twilight League is ever written one of the most brilliant chapters will pertain to Tuesday night's game at Community Park when Rockland forged into first place by blanketing the St. George champions 1 to 0. A small score does not always mean a good game, but in this instance it was not the nifty-pammy kind with the batters going out in order; almost every play was snappy and well done. In short it was just as good baseball as you see at Togus Sundays after traveling 46 miles.

Primarily it was a kingly battle between Simmons and Gray. Chummy Gray held the visitors to two hits while Simmons allowed four, one of which could have been marked an error almost as well as it could have a hit. Gray's work was marred only by the fact that he patched three batters none of whom got beyond third base, thanks to some very sharp fielding. Everybody conceded that Chummy Gray has improved greatly since last year and everybody had praise for his splendid work. When he and Simmons are rival box artists the fans will do well to forsake the golf courses and chimney corners to see what happens. A pair of likely lads, we'll say.

It was all over in the first inning, though nobody dreamed as much, and the man who put it over was the stalwart Carl Cottrell, who was playing center field because "Jeff" Mealey had a kink in his neck. Oney had reached first because Morrissey had failed to connect properly with his grounder. Up comes Carl, facing "Simmy" for the first time. And "Simmy" made the fatal error of serving to him one of those high ones which Cottrell eats at meal time or between meals. Net result, a beautiful drive which was stopped only by that center field ridge, and trotting home comes "Chief" Oney with the run that multiplied in size as the game progressed. Gray's long fly was nicely watched by I. Simmons, and Wotton was out, Dwyer to Schreiber.

Simmy led off with a single in the second inning but his sleaz at first, was quickly interrupted when Chummy Gray snapped the ball to Wotton and caught him with lines cast off.

In the same inning Charles hit in front of plate, and "Sump" Archer threw wild to first, something that this sterling backstop seldom does. It cost nothing, however, for Simmons fanned three men in this inning.

Things did not look too good for St. George in the third when Oney and Cottrell singled. The latter went out via the siesta route and Gray's stinging liner was nicely plugged by Dwyer.

The fourth opened with the patching of Monaghan, but Gray then staged his most brilliant performance by striking out the three heavies St. George batters—Archer, Simmons and Westberg—in succession.

In the fifth Schreiber doubled, with two down, only to be thrown out at third by Cal Smith.

And that about tells the story, neither goal being in real danger after that, if we except the case of Mr. Dwyer, who was assassinated at third.

There was excellent fielding all around, not forgetting Charles Oney and Westberg, in addition to the plays already named.

PARK THEATRE

A great screen star, Tom Mix; an exceptional supporting cast headed by Lois Wilson; a superb story and a screen-full of continuous action come for Friday and Saturday in the form of Universal's thrilling, lightning-moving romantic "Rider of Death Valley."

Mix gives the sort of performance in the film that makes one lament that he was unable to hear the star's adventures as well as see them in his famous, old silent pictures, and if the cowboy continues to improve in appeal with each picture as he has in this one, there will be very little left to be desired when he finishes filming pictures. The celebrated cowpuncher talks with the sort of a he-man voice that you would want to hear from him, and those who had any misgivings at all about the lanky Texan's acting ability will almost certainly be placed at ease with the excellent histrionic ability that he reveals in this picture.

Friday night at the Park is "Perry's Night," presented in the form of an Old Country Store. Gifts such as ladies' shoes, floor lamps, dinner sets and hundreds of grocery articles will be given away to the patrons. There will be a special children's matinee Friday at 2 o'clock for the children, admission 10 cents. Free candy, cookies and other good things to eat will be given to the children.—adv.

Maynard Condon, who goes with the cruiser as engineer, is making his third trip to the North, not that he is so much enamored of Labrador, but because association with Mr. Williams has made him devoted to his employer's interests. In Nova Scotia a cook will be added to the crew. Mr. Williams is a dear lover of the piscatorial art, and when he landed a 30-pound salmon on a 6-ounce rod, it clinched him forever as a fisherman.

It's C. M. P. Dividend Day Again—July 1

FOR over a quarter of a century Central Maine Power Company stockholders have been getting their dividend checks with clock-like regularity—103 consecutive times.

Over 20,000 stockholders are now sharing in these dividends. The amount now totals over $325,000.00 each quarter—over a million dollars each year. Since its first share was issued the Company has distributed in preferred stock dividends over $10,000,000.00—most of this to Maine people.

These dividends should continue to go out four times every year just as long as cities and towns continue to illuminate their streets and highways, factories and mills; to operate and light their buildings; to illuminate homes; to wash and iron clothes, cook, properly refrigerate foods, and to heat water. The many other home uses for electricity are continually becoming greater and greater.

How reassuring it is, especially in these somewhat troubled times, to know that you have some C. M. P. Preferred Stock.

NORTH HOPE

A light rain Monday gave the thirsty earth a bit of moisture on the surface but not enough to wet down to the roots of growing plants. However it looks like there might be more—so here's hoping.

Perry, the popular fish vendor—who now makes his home at Owl's Head but who was a North Hope boy—is making valiant efforts for a better supply of water for his home, having to depend on a dug well and said well having gone bone dry. When the smack Pauline McLoon pulled away from A. C. McLoon & Co's wharf yesterday morning a jolly crowd of 15 thronged her deck, and the White Island fishing grounds was the destination. A deep sea fishing party needs must have a pro, and as the result of the one arranged on the way to the grounds these awards were made: First fish, John H. Mc-

Loon; first haddock, Mrs. Pauline Rogers; largest fish, Mrs. Donald Leach; most fish, Mrs. Charles A. Rose. So successful was the expedition that the gay fisher folk found themselves possessed of about 300 pounds of cod, haddock, skates, etc. The party had a delightful hostess in the person of Mrs. Pauline T. Rogers. The out of town guests were Mrs. M. T. Gallupe of Ft. Fairfield and Mrs. Hiram Moody of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. David Burns, Mrs. Roswell Eaton, and friends were weekend guests in Bangor where they went to attend the graduation of Miss Dorothy Eaton who has been studying at Beal Business College for the past two years. She is a graduate of Rockland High School, class of 1928. Both socially and scholastically Miss Eaton has proved herself a valuable asset in all school activities. The farewell address, which she composed and delivered, has seldom been excelled. In further preparation for her career as a teacher, she will attend the University of Maine Summer School.

Rev. George H. Welch motors today to Perry Beach where he will be joined by Mrs. Welch and children, Jane and Paul, to go to their summer home in Bradford, Vt., for July and August.

Melvin Lawry, Albion Wotton, Austin Orne, L. C. Morton poultrymen of Friendship, report a very good lot of pullets this year. Less crowding has been done, which resulted in better feathering and smaller loss; 200 to 250 chicks are being brooded under one brooder stove.

Cucumber scab a disease that in past years has caused considerable loss among farmers, can be controlled by spray with 4-4-50 bordeaux to which has added two pounds of calcium arsenate or by dusting with a copper-arsenate lime dust 20-30-60. Applications should be made weekly until the first picking.

Orchards troubled with the fruit fly or railroad worm should be sprayed with arsenate of lead about the first of July and again about the middle of the month. Picking up drops, especially early varieties, will also help. Old neglected apple trees within 200 yards of an orchard are good breeders for this fly and should be either sprayed or cut down.

New alfalfa plots have been started this year by Henry Keller, Martin Hamalainen and Mr. Lane of West Rockport and Carl Chaples of Rockland. Robert Oxtun of West Rockport has about an acre, seeded two years ago which is looking very well.

Plans are being made by the Farm Bureau committee, E. C. Teague, Warren, Ralph Cripps, Camden, Maynard Kinney, St. George and Mrs. N. B. Hopkins, Camden for the annual auto tour. The trip will be within the county and calls will be made on farmers carrying on extension work.

The extension work being done by demonstrators and co-operators will be visited next week by County Agent Wentworth in these communities: Wednesday, July 6, Damariscotta; Thursday, July 7, West Rockport; Friday, July 8, Bunker Hill and North Edgecomb; Saturday, July 9, Whitefield. This will include alfalfa demonstrations, lime co-operators, orchard spray service, pasture improvement and grow good pullets.

Harold Chapman of Nobleboro has about one-half acre of raspberries set out this year, and they are doing very well. The variety is Latham, which withstood the cold this past year much better than the other varieties and showed less winterkilling.

With the Homes

Cold dishes for hot days! We like them and want them as soon as the days get so warm we find it uncomfortable in an overheated kitchen. However, a succession of cold meals is likely to lose its appeal. It is well to alternate the cold meals with hot meals that will provide cold dishes.

The housewife can save herself from hours in the hot kitchen by planning ahead a little. She can plan simple meals several days ahead which include some foods which may be cooked ahead of time. Of course, she will prepare as much of the meal as possible in the morning when it is cool, and tuck it away in the refrigerator until it is time for luncheon or dinner. When she is cooking vegetables she will cook an extra amount for a salad or a creamed dish next day. It is usually a waste of fuel and an uncomfortable hot waste, too, to have to cook at each meal both in and out of the oven, using all parts of the stove. It saves time and energy and is far more comfortable to concentrate on one spot. If you are to use the oven for one dish, why not fill it to capacity and have oven baked meat. Plan one-dish meals whenever you can.

THE BOY SCOUTS

Eagle Scout Chase At Camp Hinds—Praise For Convention Week Services

This district is represented on the staff of Camp Hinds by Eagle Scout Howard Chase, junior assistant scoutmaster of Troop 2, and acting junior assistant scoutmaster of Troop 8, the Free Will Baptist troop. Scout Chase was selected from a list of many applicants to be one of the nine junior leaders and instructors in scoutcraft, all of them being Eagle Scouts.

He is well prepared for the position as he attended Camp Mecedacut three seasons and Camp Hinds one season, winning the "C. H." signifying one of the best campers while there. Howard is also an active member of the Merit Badge Club of Honor as vice president. Last season he completed tests in life saving and was awarded his certificate as a junior member of the American Red Cross Life Saving Service. Scout Chase has 35 merit badges and his bronze palm, and is now working for a gold palm. He is 16 years of age.

The third period, July 27-Aug. 10 has been named Troop 2 period. All Scouts of Troop 2 who plan to attend camp at that time will be transported over and back by the troop committee without charge. All Troop 2 Scouts planning to attend are asked to notify their scoutmaster at once. Assistant Scoutmaster Percy Young of Troops 2 and 11 will attend.

An echo of the G.A.R. and Spanish-American War Veterans' convention week well worthy of special mention was received by Scoutmaster Whitehill and is here reprinted.

"It is with greatest pleasure that I write you in behalf of the Department Auxiliary United Spanish War Veterans to congratulate your Troop 2 Boy Scouts in giving the services of Clarence Bowser during our convention June 18 in your city of Rockland. If it were not for the quick assistance of Scout Bowser in ministering first aid during the day I know that a doctor would have had to be called and also that our ladies would not have enjoyed the day so much. Scout Bowser gave aid twice during the day as well as being very courteous in attendance and giving out information necessary to our guidance around the city.

Veronica R. Major, department secretary, U.S.W.V.A. Clarence Bowser is a second class scout of Troop 2, 16 years of age. He is assistant patrol leader of the Lion Patrol in Troop 2 and has these merit badges: Personal health, firemanship, handcraft, and leathercraft. During the G.A.R. convention he was stationed in the Chamber of Commerce office by Field Scout Executive McCartney, and had charge of placing other Scouts where they could be of most service and helpfulness.

Fourteen Troop 2 Scouts were on duty during the convention, and many favorable comments were received by the scoutmaster from the visitors regarding the kindly helpfulness of the Scouts of this city.

There will be no meeting, hike or overnight of Troop 2 on Monday, July 4. The next overnight will be July 11 at Ingraham Hill, Troop 2 only.

From Ella Hyland, president, and Emma C. Dick, secretary of Ralph Ulmer Auxiliary, Spanish War Veterans, came this note to Scoutmaster H. W. Whitehill:

"The Auxiliary wishes to thank the Scouts for their attendance and cheerful services at our convention June 18. We wish them success in everything they undertake and are very proud of them."

LAMONT'S DAUGHTER WEDS

Miss Eleanor Allen Lamont, daughter of Thomas W. Lamont, was married at a brilliant society wedding in Englewood, N. J., Monday to Charles C. Cunningham, Harvard graduate of Milton, Mass. There had been rumors that this wedding might take place at the Lamont summer home in North Haven.

THE GARDEN CLUB

Hears Interesting Talk On Perennial Plants By Mrs. Creighton of Thomaston

The June meeting of the Rockland Garden Club took place Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. F. Glover, with a large attendance. Mrs. Nina Beverage, the president, announced several of the flower shows to be given by Maine garden clubs, among them being: Thomaston Garden Club, today; Belfast Garden Club, July 7; Longfellow Garden Club, Portland, July 8, at the Purpoodeck Club, and the Arundel Garden Club, Kennebunk, at the Town hall, July 13. A list of wild flowers which should not be picked, picked in moderation and picked freely, issued by the New England Wild Flower Preservation Society, was passed around. This list is to be printed in a later issue of The Courier-Gazette, as it seems important in the effort to retain several of the native wild flowers which will soon become extinct unless steps are taken for their preservation. Mrs. Beverage gave a detailed report of the recent State convention in Augusta, and brought out the point of having a garden week when all the finest gardens in the State may be thrown open to visitors.

The requests that local merchants contribute prizes to be given for improved lawns and gardens in the contest to be sponsored by the Garden Club has met with ready response, and the full committee of this activity will be appointed a little later. Miss Helen Perry of North Main street is chairman, and wishes to be notified of entries.

Many lovely bouquets of peonies and other early summer flowers brought by members graced the rooms of Mrs. Glover's attractive home. A branch of the tulip tree on the premises of Mrs. E. W. Berry, Broad street, and a branch of the fringed tree on the grounds of a Warren street residence, attracted considerable attention by their unusualness.

Following the vote of the preceding meeting to divide the office of secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Pauline MacWilliams was named secretary, with Mrs. Lorita Bicknell remaining as treasurer.

Mrs. Charles Creighton of Thomaston as guest speaker held her hearers absorbed by her delightfully informal and instructive talk on "Perennial Plants." Beginning with the first "posies" of spring, narcissi and daffodils, Mrs. Creighton enlarged on tulips, and gave a particularly comprehensive outline on iris, for which she has a hobby. She told of an "enchanted April and May" spent in Pennsylvania several years ago when she first became acquainted with irises and joined the ranks of devotees for the development of that most beautiful flower. She told of the Harrisburg (Pa.) Iris Club composed of devotees who study iris growing from every angle and who visit among each other to exhibit and learn new points. Peonies and delphinium were also enlarged upon, and several peonies of great beauty from her own gardens were displayed. It was unanimously conceded that Mrs. Creighton's talk was one of the most enjoyable given before the Club, and a rising vote of thanks was tendered her.

"ON MY SET"

Football fans who "see" the big games through the radio are disappointed over the announcement that the game will be broadcast next fall because of the effect this free service "as on the gate." Here's hoping that this will not apply to the Army and Navy game where there is already an overflow attendance, or that annual game out on the coast in the Pasadena "Rose Bowl."

"Lee at Gettysburg," a story of the greatest of the Civil War battles, told from the point of view of the Virginia general whose genius and magnanimity, seventy years later, were acknowledged not to have belonged to his own section but to the entire country, will be presented for the first time July 4 at 8 p. m. The sketch opens outside Gettysburg on the eve of the battle, and follows the march of the army, without food and with limited ammunition, are faced with Meade's forces. The General orders Longstreet to attack. The battle is on and for two days the outcome hangs in the balance. On the third day, July 3, the Pickett's charge is launched toward the summit of Cemetery Hill to meet the unshaken fire of the Federal infantry and artillery. Out of a regiment, 50 are left and as night falls General Lee, with the remnants of his army, retires across the Potomac.

Clarence Bowser is a second class scout of Troop 2, 16 years of age. He is assistant patrol leader of the Lion Patrol in Troop 2 and has these merit badges: Personal health, firemanship, handcraft, and leathercraft. During the G.A.R. convention he was stationed in the Chamber of Commerce office by Field Scout Executive McCartney, and had charge of placing other Scouts where they could be of most service and helpfulness.

THE LIONS CLUB

Hears More About Prison From Present Warden—A Queen Presides

Warden Raymond E. Thurston, addressing the Rockland Lions Club yesterday, said that he regarded as his principal task the finding of something for the prisoners to do, and that the governor was co-operating in every way possible. Work done for the State, if properly credited would go a long way toward caring for the State Prison's overhead.

"The discipline at the Prison is first class," said Warden Thurston, "and this is largely due to the interest taken by Deputy Warden Hopkins, who is well trained, and has had a wide experience."

The speaker noted that there is only one woman in the institution at the time, due principally to the fact that practically all feminine offenders are now sent to the Woman's Reformatory in Skowhegan. "We have the facilities," said Mr. Thurston, "but in my opinion this is not the place for them."

Prisoners are graded according to their behavior, and the men are very jealous of the privilege which their rating carries. The food is very good and there is little complaint about it. The variety is good and the food is well cooked. The number of prisoners at the present time is 282.

"In justice to my predecessor," said Warden Thurston, "I want to say that he asked the last Legislature for an appropriation of $40,000 less than the prison had been having, and that it will be overdrawn only $2000 or $3000, in spite of a population increase of about 25 percent. If we add to our industries it means that we will have to carry more stock and materials, but the profits will go a long way in offsetting any investment that may be made. We have already added 60 to 70 to our working list, but it is quite a proposition. Most of the men are willing to work and it trains them to go out into the world again."

Warden Thurston was piled with interesting questions which he answered promptly and fully.

Eugene Stoddard and Secretary Brunberg told some of the things they would do if left a fortune. Civic improvements loomed prominently in their programs. A third member suggested the need of a large con-

ACADIA NATIONAL PARK

The Only One On Normal Operation Basis East of Mississippi, Says Secretary Wilbur

Acadia National Park in Maine was said by Secretary Wilbur after a visit to be "developing into an ideal and distinctive unit in the National Park system of the nation."

"It preserves and develops the best and most beautiful of the scenery that is typical of this Eastern coast," he said. "Being the first National Park east of the Mississippi it forms the nucleus of parks and monuments that is just now ready to evolve into a system that is destined to be a pride to the nation through all its future."

"Because so much has been said about our prospective National Park and monuments in the East," he continued, "the public has gained the impression that they already exist. As yet Acadia is the only National Park on a normal operation basis east of the Mississippi."

STRAND THEATRE

Edward G. Robinson, one of the screen's greatest character actors, seen variously as gangster, gambler and editor adds another characterization to his long list of "parts" as Wong Low Qet, Chinese long member, in "The Hatcher Man," which will be seen Friday and Saturday.

The story is essentially dramatic and is played against an authentic oriental background, the scenes being set in San Francisco Chinatown of today and fifteen years ago, and in China. It reveals the similarity between the emotions and instincts of Oriental and Occidental, telling a love story which holds interest to the very end, via the dramatically alive characterizations by Robinson and the supporting cast—adv.

There will be a chorus rehearsal at the Congregational vestry tonight at 8 o'clock sharp to prepare for the massed chorus to sing on Chapman Way at Eastern Music Camp, Lake Massadonske, July 23. Rockland hopes to send at least 75 singers. Invitation is extended to all local singers.
